Federal Government May Set New Precedent in Mobile, Ala., Freedom of Press Trial

'Suicide' If Party Goes Conservative Roosevelt Warns

Tells Democrats to Forget Prejudices or Get Out of the Party

1940 TO BE CLOSE Farley No Optimist This Time—Al Smith Pities Man Who Gets It

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Roosevelt, declared Wednesday night that the Democratic party would commit suicide if it turned "conservative," called on Democrats who disagree with present policies to "subordinate their prejudices" or get out of the party. In a message to a junior Jackson Day dinner of the Young Democratic Clubs here, he said:

"There never was, and never will be a political party whose policies absolutely fit the views of all its members. Where men are at variance with the course their party is taking, it seems to me there are only two honorable courses—to join a party that more accurately mirrors their ideas, or to subordinate their prejudices and remain loyal."

Looking ahead to 1940, and calling on the party to stick to the principles that "brought it to power," he said: "There is no use fooling to call it a conservative regime, you may depend on it that it will be the other fellow's regime."

Ills at Democrats In inviting Democrats to leave the party if they cannot remain "loyal," he said he was not seeking to prevent them from trying to change the party's program.

"It would be a poor sort of politician or statesman," he said, "who did not fight for his sincere principles, but that is a different thing from allying themselves with their party's enemies and getting in a stab wherever and whenever they can do so safely."

Unless the party keeps "straight ahead," he said, the country will find itself traveling in a direction opposite to that which it wants to go.

Incidentally, the progress of our political car is not helped by the clamor of the backseat drivers who point out the apparent smoothness of the detours of compromise and subterfuge, and complain of the speed of our going."

Explaining his prediction that the party was doomed to defeat if it abandoned its present course, he said the multitude of independent voters and "Republican liberals" who voted Democratic in 1932 and 1936 would "quit us in disgust if we throw them down now."

Whenever the Democratic party offered the country an "ersatz" (imitation) Republicanism, he said, the people "spurned the imitation and sent our party to stand in a corner until it had learned its lesson."

Farley Forecasts James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, asserted in a speech to Democrats should not "delude" themselves into thinking another landslide was inevitable in 1940.

"It would be silly and stupid for me or anyone else to assert that the smashing triumph which the Democratic party won over a bankrupt Republican party in last two presidential elections will be repeated in 1940," he asserted.

"Even to G. O. P. can readily be relied upon to exhibit the same brand of blind indifference to the national welfare that marked its conduct in those elections. Jumbo is a trifle more alert and he has learned that the political tricks which delighted the audience back in the gay days before the 1929 crash are out of date and need revising."

Farley said, however, that "pessimism has no place in the Democratic outlook for 1940 and I believe sincerely that the next president of the United States will be a Democrat."

Al Smith's Crack NEW YORK — (AP) — Former Gov. Al Smith said Wednesday that "the man who goes into the presidency in 1940 has got to go in without thinking of a second term, or he won't do any good."

"Because the man who cleans up the mess," he added, "is going to make himself so damn unpopular he'll be like a Gillette at a barbers' convention."

Two Exhibition Softball Games Thursday Night

Bruner-Ivory Meets Alton CCC Camp in Opening Contest

FAIR PARK AT 7:45

Leo Robins' Team Plays Winner—New Rules Announced

The first softball exhibition games of the season will be played Thursday night at Fair Park. Two games will be played.

Bruner-Ivory Handle company and the Alton CCC Camp team will start the ball rolling in the opening contest at 7:15 o'clock. A team sponsored by Leo Robins will oppose the winner in the second game Thursday night.

Softball Commissioner Bill Brasher announced the admission price as five and ten cents—with no free list.

Mr. Brasher also announced that the deadline for team entries in the two leagues to be operated here this spring and summer would expire next Monday night.

He asked that team sponsors turn in their list of players at once. He said he would accept the list—or they may be turned in at The Star office.

At a meeting held last Monday night, rules were adopted for operation of the two leagues. The rules are as follows:

Softball League Rules Rule 1. This league shall be known as the Hope Softball League and will be governed by official softball rules.

Rule 2. Full authority is given to Bill Brasher as commissioner of the league.

Rule 3. Teams will be divided into two leagues: A (fast teams) and B (slow teams). The winners of each league will meet in a two-out-of-three game series at the end of the season.

Rule 4. Teams entering the league for the first time this year must pay a $2 forfeit fee; teams that played last year must pay a $1 forfeit fee. Any team will be allowed to forfeit by paying $1 for the first forfeit. After a team forfeits the second time, this team is then automatically ruled out of the league and the remaining games will count as no-games played, and will not count in won and lost column.

Rule 5. Eight players may constitute a team and start a game instead of the official ten—if the ten players are not ready to start on scheduled time.

Rule 6. Any team not ready to play 15 minutes after the playing time forfeits the game, the umpire to decide and rule upon this.

Rule 7. All persons sponsoring teams must hand in their list of players not later than April 24, with each player's name in his own handwriting. This list is to be turned in to the league commissioner, Bill Brasher.

Rule 8. Players may transfer from one team to another, but a player cannot participate in a game until five days after his transfer is announced. Players on B teams may advance to A teams. Players may transfer only to original managers. Players may not transfer two weeks before the end of the league season.

50th Birthday of Hitler Celebrated

4 1/2-Hour Military Parade Is Greatest in History of Berlin

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, World war corporal who became the "augmentor of the Reich," Thursday paraded a cross section of the armed might which gave him the mastery of central Europe before distinguished foreign guests attending the celebration of his 50th birthday.

It was the largest military review ever witnessed in Berlin.

Forty thousand soldiers, tanks, motorized equipment and artillery passed by in a parade which lasted 4 1/2 hours.

Shortly before the parade started Hitler became an honorary citizen of Danzig, receiving his citizenship papers from the Nazi district leader of the free city.

The features of the parade were mammoth new types of long-range air defense artillery, emphasis on motorized artillery, and the development of air defense units.

Bandit Robs Store 3rd Time, Killed

Holds Up Grocery Store Three Times in Five Nights

HOUSTON, Texas.—(AP)—A bandit whose fantastic stubbornness led him to hold up the same grocery store three times in five nights met his death here Wednesday night before a double charge of buckshot.

The man robbed Marshall's grocery of $30 Saturday night. The proprietor, wife, not knowing her husband had taken $28 from the cash register, reported the loot was $58.

The bandit read the story in the newspapers. He came back Monday night and demanded the other $28. He got $20.

Wednesday night he showed up to collect the $8 which, in his weird obstinacy, he seemed to think the grocery still owed him.

This time, the proprietor of the store, R. B. Marshall, was waiting for the robber with a loaded shotgun. When the man drew a pistol and demanded the $8 from a clerk, Marshall let him have both barrels, loaded with buckshot, police said.

Do a forward somersault and land on your feet?

Go to the nearest library for a seven volume series?

2. He asks you to make a pastel drawing. Would you?

Take a water-color set out of your brief case?

"We hope that every Hope citizen will be our guest at this brief entertainment program," Mr. Williams said. He also announced that the Business Tour members are publishing an eight-page booklet which will be distributed to Hope business executives during the Dallasites' visits here. The front page of the booklet will be a "salute" from Dallas to Hope.

Included in the Business Tour party will be prominent manufacturers, wholesalers, bankers, newspaper men, insurance and utility company executives, as well as representatives of the City of Dallas and the County of Dallas.

Property Owners Slow Assessing

Offices to Be Maintained Both at Hope and Washington

Dewey Hendrix, tax assessor of Hempstead county, announces that beginning Monday, April 24, either he or his deputy will be in Hope again for approximately one week. During this time an office will be maintained at both Hope and Washington in order that people in and around Washington may do so without making a trip to Hope.

There has been a great deal of misunderstanding on the part of many citizens as to the proper time and place for assessing and Mr. Hendrix stated that less than one half of the property owners of Hempstead county have assessed their property for 1939 without making a trip to Washington, and in order that the people who have failed to assess in and around Washington may do so without making a trip to Hope.

Although the time for assessing taxes without payment of penalty expired at midnight, April 10th, the tax assessor said that property owners who have not assessed might still escape the added penalty of $1.00 provided they made their assessment between now and May 1st.

Automobiles this year are being assessed on the basis of 50 per cent of their valuation, under recent instructions of the Arkansas Corporation Commission which issued schedules to each tax assessor in the state.

It has been the habit of many citizens to assess and pay their poll tax every year in order that they might vote on election years. However, under a recent act of the 1939 General Assembly it is now necessary for a citizen to assess and pay their poll tax every year if they are to be qualified to vote in both the primary and general election. Therefore, even

He said damages in the Crowley Ridge sector of East Arkansas were slight and that the Highland peach district of Southwest Arkansas had escaped injury. On April 1 the condition of the crop was 73 per cent of normal.

The new process of growing vegetables in trays of water has been put to use to supply the air base on tiny Wake island.

Reform Program Goes Into Effect

Slot Machines and Other Devices Removed by Hope Operators

Mayor W. S. Atkins' reform program, banning the operation of punchboards, various kinds of slot machines and other gambling devices where a capital prize is given away, went into effect Thursday.

Operators of Hope were warned during the morning to immediately dispose of the gambling devices.

Following the warning order given by Police Chief S. R. Copeland and members of the present police force, the devices were rapidly disappearing from public sight.

Some marble machines remained in operation, but the owners were warned that no prizes were to be given away.

In his inaugural address before the new city council Tuesday night, the new mayor made it plain that all municipal laws would be enforced.

Another provision of the reform program calls for the enforcement of the law against sale of beer on Sunday.

Mussolini Spurns F. D. R.'s Plea, But Will Not Attack

Dictator Points to Italy's 1942 World Fair as Peace Gesture

RAPS "IGNORANCE" Asserts Peace Sponsors Know Nothing About European Affairs

ROME, Italy.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini rejected Thursday President Roosevelt's plea for a decade of peace by non-aggression, guarantees on the grounds that they were unnecessary, and failed to take into consideration the "pyramidal errors of geography."

But Il Duce cited Italy's plans for a world exposition in 1942 as "a promising indication that we do not intend to attack anyone."

Mussolini rejected the idea of reciprocal guarantees against aggression both on the grounds that it did not take into consideration geographical errors and because such a proposal came from individuals without "even a rudimentary knowledge of European affairs."

French Applaud Roosevelt PARIS, France.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Bonnet urged all governments in a plea Thursday to renounce military aggression as suggested in President Roosevelt's message to Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

Addressing the American club of Paris, Bonnet declared that all governments could accept President Roosevelt's proposal "without losing a single bit of their authority or prestige."

"Your president," he added, "has rendered real service to all in applying to this perilous situation the clarity of his intelligence."

He especially desired that prayers be said by children, "who radiate innocence, gentleness and grace."

Ours for the Asking

"A calendar of 1000 events in Europe, in booklet form," is yours for the asking," announces a travel prospectus.

Yes. A thousand events, ours for the asking!

See the 400,000 Spanish refugees, huddled in a corner of La Belle France, starving and miserable!

See the rebuilding of what used to be historic and beautiful Spain, and the establishment on its ruins of the world's newest authoritarian state!

See historic old Czechoslovakia, and the terrorized thousands clanking in agony at its iron gates, seeking the smallest chance to escape the German rule.

See historic Russia, but don't inquire what they did to people exactly like you in the recent days when they were building the Social Utopia with a firing squad.

Back on the sunny beaches of the Adriatic. The alarm may come soon enough to enable you to scramble to the bomb-proof shelter in time.

See the concentration camps of the panic look of a man who dares not answer a simple, civil question because he knows not who may be listening, what double-crossing spy his questioner may be.

See the little children, age 10, herded into ranks and shouting a shrill salute in their piping voices as the drillmaster begins the task of whipping them into cannon fodder.

See the gas masks hanging beside every fireplace, and hear the drone of planes overhead. It's exciting, for you never know what moment they may stop playing and begin in earnest that spectacular "blossoming" of bombs which so impressed the esthetic Bruno Mussolini.

See the suspicious customs officials, stopping you every 30 miles and rummaging through your baggage. Meet the police every time you raise your camera, and feel the fine contempt that will be felt for you in so many places as a "decadent" citizen of free-republic.

Who knows, you may be lucky enough to encounter the Greatest Show of All—the authentic New World war, the Five-Ring Carnival of Carnage.

A mere thousand events in Europe this summer? Pshaw! A million!

The American tourist will do well to plan his summer trip this year so as not to miss the ones that appeal to him the most.

Dangerous Ear Infections Often Complicated By Scarlet Fever

The most common and most important complication of scarlet fever is infection of the ear. Such infection occurs in about 12 per cent of all cases of scarlet fever.

Sometimes this results in permanent hardness of hearing. Moreover, there is the possibility of subsequent infection of the mastoid and of the brain, and occasionally the basis for a serious infection of the entire body, resulting in death.

When the infected material coming from the ear that has been attacked during scarlet fever is examined, it is found to contain germs of the same type that are associated with the production of scarlet fever.

The cases are not all equally severe; some are fairly mild. This apparently depends to some extent on the virulence of the germ that produces the infection. It must be remembered that scarlet fever is sometimes so mild as to constitute only a brief illness, and in other cases it may be malignant in its severity.

An abscess in the ear may occur at any time during scarlet fever, but in the majority of cases it occurs after the first week, most frequently between the fourteenth and twenty-first day. Incidentally, this is the period when other complications are likely to occur in scarlet fever. The other complications include infection of the kidneys, of the joints and of the heart.

It is interesting to note that the number of patients with scarlet fever who develop infection in the ear constitutes 12 per cent not only in a study of some hundreds of thousands of cases in this country, but also in Sweden,
Italy and elsewhere in the world.

Like other diseases, scarlet fever varies in its virulence from year to year, so that when scarlet fever is mild the amount of infection in the ear is mild.

Incidentally, the infection in the ear is much more likely to occur in young children than in older people who have scarlet fever. When a child with this infection begins to complain of a severe pain in the ear, it is desirable to have the physician make a study of the ear drum at once to determine whether there is pressure on the drum by a collection of infected material within.

If the eardrum has burst spontaneously because of this pressure, the opening may be insufficient in size to permit the fluid to escape. Then it may become necessary for the doctor to enlarge the opening.
In other instances, the eardrum may have failed to burst spontaneously. In that case the doctor will want to open it to permit the infected material to get out, and thus avoid the possibility of spreading to the mastoid or even to the brain.

Both actions in this regard will not only save the possibility of much more serious complications, but will save the hearing, shorten the length of the infection, and in many instances save the life of the child who is suffering.

The new drug called sulfanilamide, which has a special effect on germs of the type that cause infection of the ear in scarlet fever, is apparently useful in preventing the onset of such an infection. Studies are now being made in hospitals to determine exactly how the drug should be given to children for this purpose.

A Message Of Peace

Were half the power that fills the world with terror, Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts, Given to redeem the human mind from error There were no need of arsenals or fortifications. The warrior's name would be abhorred. And every nation, that should lift its hand against a brother, on its sword would forevermore the curse of Cain. Down the dark future through long generations, The echoing sounds grow fainter and then cease; And like a bell with solemn, sweet vibrations, We hear once more the voice of Christ say, "Peace." Peace and no longer from its brazen portals The blast of war's great organ shakes the skies! But beautiful as songs of the immortals, The holy melodies of love arise. —Selected.

Mrs. Aline Johnson has spent the last two days visiting with her daughters Mrs. Orville Eringer and Mr. Eringer and Miss Evelyn Johnson in Dallas.

The Clara Lowthorpe chapter, C. of C. will meet at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marian Smith, South Elm street. The Director asks that each member bring dues.

The Day View Reading club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. M. Bryant on North Washington street. The attractive bistro home was aglow with lovely spring flowers, roses and lilies were attractively arranged throughout the reception suite.

A splendid attendance greeted the leader Mrs. J. A. Henry when she presented an unusual interesting and instructive program on "Air Trails."

Mrs. Hugh Jones told of the world's most famous "wrong way flyer," giving details as to the personality of this Irish humorist and wit. Mrs. Henry told something of the history of aviation from its beginning, dwelling on the air mail history, and the network of trails across the United States, followed by Mrs. John Gibson who told of the last trip made by the world's best loved flier, Will Rogers, relating many incidents pertaining to the trip and passing of one of aviation's most noted fliers, Wiley Post, and Will Rogers, who always flew when possible in traveling.

Mrs. Henry featured her program by introducing Lieut. C. V. Collins, of the aviation corps, who held his audience for 30 minutes telling of the many trips he had made from California to Manila on one of the Clipper ships, telling of the food, and the rules of the ship, the storage and the mechanism, stressing on the many devices and precautions made for the safety of the passengers. In opening his remarks, Lieut. Collins paid tribute to the late Wiley Post, saying he was a man of few words, and was known by his more intimate friends as the Silent One. Lieut. Collins was kind enough to answer the many questions of the members during the social hour following the program, at which time the hostess assisted by Mrs. O. A. Graves, served a tempting strawberry ice with cakes, each plate being adorned with a lovely posy.

The next meeting will be a postponed meeting on April 26 with Mrs. Sid Henry and Miss Maggie Bell as

'The Sense of Sin' Topic of Revival

Near-Capacity Audience Hears Dr. Garrett Wednesday Night

Before an audience which practically filled the auditorium of First Baptist church, Dr. E. P. J. Garrett delivered a revival message Wednesday night on "The Sense of Sin." The special services will continue to be held daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday night Dr. Garrett said: "Alexander MacLaren and William Gladstone, one an English theologian and Bible expositor, and the other an English statesman made practically the same statement at the close of the century: 'The greatest need of the world is a sense of sin.'"

"The importance of the early diagnosis of tuberculosis is being impressed upon us. Unless one can see himself as a great sinner, he is not likely to see Jesus Christ as a great Saviour. He will not see his need of salvation unless he sees the depth of his sin."

"Anything in our lives which is contrary to God's will is sin. God is concerned about the little things that we do. He is as much concerned about how we treat the clerks in the stores as he is about how the clerks treat us. . . . God's knowledge of our sins is accurate and all-inclusive."

"If any one of us should seek to say that we are sinless, we would have only to consider, soberly Christ's words, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God . . . and thy neighbor as thyself' to realize that we have broken the first and greatest commandment and the other which is like unto it. The better Christian one is, the greater is the consciousness of sin in his life."

Friday night Dr. Garrett will preach on "The Remedy For Sin." In addition to music by the Booster Choir of boys and girls, special numbers will be sung each night by the senior choir and the First Baptist quartet.

District Judging Contest for Hope

Livestock and Field Crops to Be Judged on April 27

The vocational department of Yergor high school is making final preparation for the coming District vocational judging contest which is to be held at Yergor High School April 27.

All senior high school students in the vocational classes have been drilled in the technique of judging live stock and field crops. A preliminary contest between the students of the local high school was conducted by the three trainees, J. L. Taylor, T. R. Courtney, George Kemmel and C. A. White, assistant vocational teacher and J. A. Harris, vocational instructor.

The highest scoring individuals of the local contest are: Thomas English, A. J. Trent, Victor Bell, C. W. Faucett, Amos Henry, Wlam Haney, Willie Harris, W. C. Easter, Paul Grady, Pink Carrigan, Henry Walker, and Trenton Cooper. From this number the final team will be selected to compete with 12 other school teams in the district contest.

Jonnie Williams and Amos Henry are the rivals for the speaking contest. C. L. Flounoy, A. J. Piggott, Thomas English, and W. C. Easter are the members of the local quartette under the directorship of J. L. Taylor, A. M. & N. college trainee and apprentice teacher at Yergor High School. A horse shoe pitching tournament will be held this week at the local school to determine the best shoe thrower.

The winners in each event of the district contest will be eligible for the state contest which will be held in Pine Bluff in June.

The state winners will go to the world's poultry show in Cleveland, Ohio, in July. From there they will go to the national N. F. A. convention, at Bordentown, N. J. While in New Jersey, these boys will have an opportunity to go to the World's Fair at New York City, N. Y.

Garner vs. Hopkins Seen in RFC Fight

Jesse Jones Hears His RFC May Be Turned Over to Hopkins

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Reports reached Capitol Hill Wednesday that President Roosevelt was considering transferring the RFC and other government lending agencies to the Commerce Department in the first reorganization move under authority granted him recently by congress.

The contemplated order, which some expected next week, also might include the Federal Housing Administration and Home Owners Loan Corporation, thus consolidating major business recovery agencies under one command.

The president was reported considering transferring to the Interior Department both the Biological Survey, now in agriculture, and the Bureau of Fisheries, now in commerce.

Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC declined to comment but it was reported he had discussed with some senators the possibility his agency might be shifted to the Commerce Department. Jones was said to oppose this move and there were indications that if it were made, it would bring about the first test of the section of the reorganization bill which permits an executive order shifting bureaus to stand unless both houses of congress vote disapproval within 60 days.

One senator said he regarded the RFC's reduction in interest rates on loans this week the start of a campaign to stave off any change in the agency's status. The RFC cut interest rates on loans to business from five per cent to four. This was regarded as anticipating any spectacular move toward stimulating business that might be made subsequent to a transfer.

This senator said there was little doubt that if the agency were placed under the Commerce Department Jones soon would resign. Jones is a close associate of Vice President Garner and has been credited recently with supporting Garner for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940.

There also has been discussion that Hopkins may be President Roosevelt's choice for his successor, if the president does not himself decide to run again.

Millionaire Asks to Be An Umpire

Is Willing to Work for Nothing and Pay His Expenses, Too

By PAUL SIMMONS
AP Feature Service Writer
NORFOLK, Va. — Calling bulls, strikes and outs in the Class B Piedmont league this summer will be a man rich enough to buy one of the clubs back, stock and barrel with his spending money. Later he may do just that—but right now he is concentrating on being a "good ump."

The unusual umpire is O. William (Bill) Hayes of Barrington, N. H., a young sportsman known in his home state as the "millionaire kid." Bill, who is over six feet tall and weighs more than 200 pounds, umpires because he thinks it is fun.

He wrote Ralph Daughton, league president, and offered to work for nothing and pay his own expenses to boot. Daughton could not let him do that but when he checked up and found how good Hayes was he gave him a job with the regular pay. Bill may never call for his checks but he says that won't make any difference with his umpiring.

Still in his early 20's, Hayes feels that baseball is a "great business, with some of the finest men in the country connected with it." He would like to play the game but, although he was good as a semipro, he says he is not quite good enough to make the regular pro ranks.

He expects some day to buy and run a minor league club of his own. He thinks umpiring will be good experience but he is quick to say that he is not going to try to get on the good side of the fans or anyone else through the umpire route. He says the only one he is going to try to satisfy with his decisions is himself, for "that is the honest way."

In Florida Hayes got some spring umpiring practice working with the Yankees, Rochester and other clubs.

"If I could be a success as an ump and reach the big league, it would probably be some time before I should want to own a club—if I think a good ump I'll stick to it—and I think

Last year his nine played in the national semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kas. The Orioles did not win the championship but they did get the official title of the "most sportsmanlike team." To make things unanimous in that field Hayes won the individual sportsmanship award.

Phillies Beaten in 12 Innings, 7 to 6

Only Game Played in Major Loop Wednesday Because of Rain, Cold

PHILADELPHIA—Playing in fog and rain, the Boston Bees opened their 1939 National League season Wednesday by taking a 12-inning game from Philadelphia, 7 to 6, in a morning Patriots' Day contest witnessed by fewer than 2,000 rugged fans.

Anxious to get the opening day's ceremony out of the way, the two teams were forced to play three hours and one minute before the only major league game of the day was decided. Under the leadership of their new manager, Doc Prothro, the Phils went into a 5-2 lead by putting across three runs in the second, one in the fourth and two in the fifth. But the Bees, sparked by three newcomers—Al Simmons, Buddy Hassett and Eddie Miller—kept pecking away at the offerings of three pitchers until they tied the score in the ninth.

Bill Posedel, the fourth Bees pitcher, held the Phillies in check in the closing three innings. In the last of the 12th Garmes got a lift when Les-Powers dropped a throw at first base. Max West sent the Boston third baseman to second with a bunt and Hassett walked. Simmons hit Butcher's first pitch to center field for his third single and Garmes scored the winning run.

The Bees outthrew the visitors, 12 to 10, but were forced to use four pitchers, Turner, Erickson, Shoffner and Posedel. Mulachy and Smith preceded Butcher on the mound for the Phils.

Crackers Pound Out 9-4 Victory

Obtain 14 Hits Off Three Knoxville Hurlers; Three Homers

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — The Crackers found cold weather and the offerings of three Knoxville pitchers to their liking Wednesday, rapping out 14 safeties for a 9 to 4 victory.

Gordon Maltzberger hurled brilliantly for the first five innings, allowing Atlanta only two singles. He gave up two runs in the sixth, however, and was blasted from the mound in the eighth during a five-run rally. Burge and Peters contributed home runs to the Crackers' cause and Abernathy duplicated the feat for the Smokies.

The clubs will finish the series Thursday.

RAISING A FAMILY

By Olive Roberts Barton

Parents: Be Sure to Practice What You Preach

"You children get busy, now, and help your mother," answered James. "She said not to," answered James. And Betty said, "We were busy all day, daddy, helping to clean house."

"Yes, they have been grand," said mother. "James gave up his ball game to beat rugs and Betty aired all the clothes in the attic. We are all tired to death. Couldn't you help us, Elmer?"

"Oh, I haven't been doing a thing all day but make enough money to run this place, so I am as fresh as a daisy," I had said.

"Yes, I know," said mother. "You had a deal on. It wore you to the bone trying to convince Mrs. Bucks that the house you are trying to sell her is more becoming because it has a pink bathroom instead of a yellow one."

"Well, all right. I'm not tired. Pin an apron on me and see if I care. Go ahead, son and daughter of mine, and let your father do all the sissy work in the house."

So father helped mother wipe six plates, broke a cup, spilled the breakfast cream and threw a cigarette stub in the dishpan. Upon which she let him go and finished the rest herself.

But that was not the end of it. The idea that he had been impressed into service rangled in Mr. Sells' mind. He made up his mind to remain haughtily aloof from any more entanglements of the sort.

So the next evening he gave them a lecture on the duties of young people. They must always put their mother first. She had to have all the consideration, they could give her. One only had one mother. A father had to provide and he was too awkward about household things to be of service. He depended on them to save their mother in every way they could. A little fatigue should not interfere.

Both James and Betty listened well. Neither looked at the other. For, although they admired their father, they had noticed certain discrepancies in his own habits. "It burns me up," James had said, "the way he climbs in a car and lets mother open her door and get in the best way she can. He doesn't do it with other people."

"I know," Betty had said, "But men are like that. He loves mother."

"So do we. But why doesn't he give a break himself, when he's so all-fired set on us being decent about things?"

But they only said now, "Yes, dad," and "No father," quite politely, so he was not to know that his children were as observant of his failings as he of theirs. A point for both fathers and mothers to note.

A Book a Day

Crusading Editor Writes Life Story

You would have to search a long time to find another story with the epic sweep of Oswald Garrison Villard's. It begins with his father, who was a noted Civil War correspondent and railroad builder and it continues right up to the stirring present.

Villard himself calls his autobiography "Fighting Years" (Harcourt, Brace, $3.75), and you feel when you have laid the book down at last that he couldn't have hit on a better title.

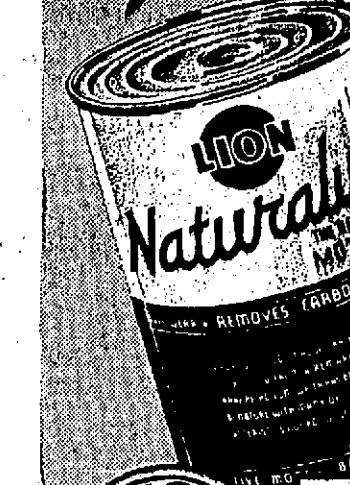

For the years of Oswald Garrison Villard have been decidedly fighting ones. Perhaps he may have inherited some part of his crusading spirit from his mother who was a daughter of the famous abolitionist, William Lloyd Garrison. But in any event, Villard has crowded into his life to last 10 ordinary souls.

There are, for instance, his days as a New York newspaper editor and, later, magazine publisher. As such he seems to have been clashing constantly with some public figure. What's more, Villard almost invariably came out on top.

As a figure in the war days he was especially significant. It was Villard who published the full text of the sensational Secret Treaties in 1917. It was Villard who, without intending to, gave Wilson his famous words, "too proud to fight."

Thus you begin to get a glimpse of the sort of autobiography this liberal editor must unavoidably write. "You will find it as good a chronicle of modern America as you will lay hands on for a long time. Nor will you find one more militant."—P. G. F.

2. SAVE ON REPAIR BILLS CAUSED BY EXCESSIVE WEAR
(Lion Naturalube Has Stranger Natural Protective Film)

3. SAVE ON GASOLINE BILLS
(Lion Knix-Knox Gives More Miles Per Dollar)

HOW NATURALUBE SAVES BY REMOVING CARBON AND PREVENTING EXCESSIVE WEAR...

Lion Naturalube, the new-type motor oil, brings you the perfect combination for cutting car expense: (1) the ability to remove hard carbon deposits from pistons, rings, valves, and spark plugs—(2) a stronger natural protective film. Unlike oils of other types, Naturalube does not cause power-loss and excessive gasoline consumption by forming hard carbon deposits. Because of its ability to remove hard carbon deposits, Naturalube restores power, reduces gasoline consumption and saves the cost of carbon removal jobs. Another important money-saving feature is Naturalube's stronger, natural protective film which prevents excessive friction wear—the chief cause of expensive repairs.

New Officers for Christian Church

Nine Elders and 14 Deacons Are Chosen by Congregation

In the congregational meeting held Wednesday night at the First Christian church in Hope all the officers of the church presented their resignations, clearing the way for the reorganization of the congregation according to the plan suggested by the Rev. L. O. East, of Texarkana, who has been leading the congregation in a revival campaign during the past two weeks.

A new group of nine elders and fourteen deacons was elected and from this group four elders and six deacons were chosen to become members of the official board of the church.

Additional members of this board will be the heads of the various organizations within the church, such as the Missionary Society, Ladies' Aid, Sunday school, etc.

The new board will consist of only fourteen or fifteen members whereas it formerly numbered thirty-five or forty. The new organization for the first time gives the women of the church representation upon its official board.

The new board will meet after the revival service Thursday night to organize by the election of officers and the appointment of standing committees which will carry on the various departments of the proposed ten-year program.

The revival services will continue through Sunday, April 23, closing with the night service Sunday. Rev. Millard Baggett, of Bentonville, who has been leading the musical program for the revival, will preach Sunday morning, with Dr. Leet closing the series of services Sunday night.

Dr. Leet will speak Thursday night on "What Is Sin?" His subject for the Friday night service is "What Is the Soul?" He will preach Sunday night on "The Church of Today." All these services begin at 7:45.

Negro Health Month Observed by School

Yerger High School, in a series of lectures pertaining to National Negro Health Month, April 1-30, featured Dr. Leon Eves in the auditorium as guest speaker on the ninth grade assembly program sponsored by Naomi Yerger.

Dr. Eves said that dentistry not only has enlarged the sphere and importance of the tooth, but also related this separate member of oral denture to its associates, neighboring tissues and their functions, and the general welfare; for many an ill person may indirectly, if not directly attribute his specific organic disease or disability to a defective and neglected tooth, diseased root or gum.

He urged frequent visits to dentists as one preventive of ill health.

Washington Society Feels Kindly Toward Mellow "Old-Timers"

By GERRY DICK
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The old-timer of Washington official society enjoys unique immunity.

Precedent doesn't worry her. If she likes, she can make precedent. She seldom outrages convention. But she can do with impunity things for which newcomers would be ostracized.

Her familiarity with the Washington scene gives her a distinction that does not depend on her husband's position or politics.

Assured of permanent residence here, most old-timers settle into spacious apartments at one of the smart addresses in town. They collect early American paintings, porcelain or duelling pistols and culling cards.

The typical old-timer is the wife of a widower of a man whose official duties have brought him back to Washington for many successive terms. Or he may have served as the head of a government department under several administrations.

She is well enough established to disdain the tiresome ritual with which newcomers are initiated into official society.

She is a source of comfort to new Congressional wives, and, remembering her own early confusion, she is graciously helpful. Sometimes the wives of freshmen Senators and Congressmen are too much awed by her assurance to ask her advice.

If her husband holds an elective office, the old-timer as well as the newcomer must make concessions to constituents, but she is not afraid to deny them her time and energy.

If the banker or the newspaper editor of one of the towns in her state comes to Washington with his wife, she may motor down to Mount Vernon with them. If the mayor of an important city in the state arrives with his family for a visit, she may even ask them to luncheon.

But she often evades these obligations with the plea of "a head-ache."

Needless to say she has learned just how it may be done without giving offense.

Some of the bright young newcomers may find her a bit stodgy and her reminiscences dull, which often is true. But if she knocks, the doors of Washington are opened to her.

She remembers the scandal which shocked the capital twenty years ago, and the channels of current gossip seem to have been dug beneath the floor of her living room.

Wherever she came from, she has adopted Washington as her home. She is often active in local charities, and her sponsorship is invaluable to the committees for raising funds.

Long since wearied of debate in congress, she seldom visits the gallery except for such an occasion as the President's address to a joint session.

Year by year she moves toward the conclusion that present-day Washington cannot compare with the good old days. Then comes the day when her memories dim and she attributes the bon mot of the Senator from Wisconsin to the Secretary of Labor in Wilson's cabinet.

In between, she writes her memoirs. She gets a fat fee from a woman's magazine for the serialization of them.

When they appear in book form the critics are unimpressed. They say unkind things about her flippant treatment of historic occasions and figures.

But she has many friends and they make her excuses.

"If she told all she knew, she would ruin the reputation of a dozen statesmen. Did she ever tell you the story of the Senator from Kentucky and the wife of the French Ambassador? But, of course, she wouldn't print that. She's much too kind."

MAGNOLIA, Ark. — Southwood's Garrett B-1 in SW NW 24-17-20, plug of which was drilled Sunday, has cleaned itself into pits and is running into tanks. A gauge showed it was flowing 17 barrels per hour late Wednesday afternoon through a three-sixteenth inch reversible choke.
